WHAT SHALL WE DO WITH OUR BOYS?

AMONGST THEM

With the cities full of hoodlums and the country full of tramps, the above question becomes to every parent the most important one of his whole life. No political question, none of the dogmas of theology, nor problems of science, no loss of money or reputation can compare with it. The answer each one gives will either make his son a man, with all the dignity, self-respect and intelligence which that noble name implies, or a profane blackguard, and rum sucking loafer. No man can be indifferent to any experiment in this line, and we have devoted some space to a description of the way B. F. Leete handles the question. In a conversation he made the remark that his boys manifested no desire to come down town at night, and that they had not spent an evening on the streets since he had lived in Reno. The statement led the reporter to examine into the way the boys spent their time, and the result is given elsewhere. The man has no more important duty than to see that they are growing up right, and the future of this country depends upon his performing it properly.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

David Peyster, postmaster at the Summit, denies the reports circulated against him, that he took newspapers from the mails and used them for wrapping paper. It is certain that subscribers in his vicinity have missed their papers, but Mr. Peyster says that the missing papers never reached his office.

Despite the predictions of the wise, Edison's trial electric lights are burning brilliantly at Menlo Park, the only trouble so far having resulted from defects in the glass globes surrounding them. Edison is confident of ultimate and complete success.

Europe affords a fine field for the study of diplomacy, but the best exhibition of it in this country is made when a barber effects the sale of a bottle of hair restorer.

The Alta wants the naturalization laws to apply to foreign born women as well as men. Why not?

Church Notices.

The Rev. Wm. Blaett will preach at the Baptist church to-morrow. Subject: "Law and Government." Subject: "The New Birth."

Divine service will be held at the Methodist Episcopal Church to-morrow, at 11 A. M. and 7 P. M., Rev. C. McElroy officiating. Seats free. All are invited. Sabbath school at 1:30 P. M.

A Spur in a Methodist Church.

Mr. Wood is a temperance revivalist. He wished to hold meetings in the Methodist church at Phillipsburg, N. J., but the trustees feared that bummers would soil the new carpet with tobacco juice, and only gave the use of the bare-boarded lecture room. From thereupon hired a public hall, and soon got a temperance revival successfully under way. He spoke bitterly of the Methodist trustees as enemies of the temperance cause, and in this warlike way joined by the church's pastor, the Rev. Mr. Lockwood. The strife has split the congregation; the trustees are trying to burn out the pastor, the pastor is trying to burn out the trustees, and the quarrel has been carried to the district conference.

What They Say in Oregon.

The Oregonian published an interview with 123 prominent Republicans of Portland, Oregon, taken at random from all classes, relative to their preferences for the Presidential candidate. The result shows: Blaine, 62; Grant, 14; Sherman, 13; Washburn, 5; Hayes, 3; Schenck, 2; scattering, 4. Interviews with 25 prominent Democrats as to their choice was: Tilden, 26; Bayard, 15; Field, 4; Seymour, 4; Garcelon, 21; scattering, 8; no choice, favoring the nominees of the convention, 16.

Sheep Frosts in Oregon.

As correspondent of the Oregonian at Rockville, Wasco county says: The mercury ranges from 10 to 20 degrees below zero. We lost 70 head of sheep, mostly old ewes and late lambs, frozen to death. One of our neighbors has lost his entire band and his herder. They have been gone two days. They were seen the day before the storm began between Boe Springs and Beasley's horse corral. There have been several parties out looking for the missing sheep, but no tidings of their whereabouts have been obtained.

Pork-Packing in California.

Says the Bakersfield Californian: Messrs. Haggard and Carr have it under consideration to construct a large pork-packing establishment and cooling-house on the Cotton Ranch, with capacity of hanging 1,500 hogs. In connection with this, they propose to operate a patent ice manufactory, which will serve the double purpose of securing a frigid temperature at all seasons, and of furnishing ice to our citizens.

General Garfield.

The man who is to take Senator Thurman's place March 4, 1891, was born in Onyx-shoe county in 1851.

He was appointed by Gov. Domonson, Colonel of the 42nd regiment of Ohio volunteers, and made Brigadier General of the National Guards in 1862, assigned to Rosecrans in the following year as Chief of Staff, and promoted to Major Generalship for gallantry at Chattanooga.

TRUCKEE RIVER ITEMS.

From our own Correspondent.
E. W. Peers has succeeded J. C. Smith as agent at Bronco. Mr. Peers comes from Fresno. Mr. Smith has moved to Reno.

The Pacific Shingle company will start up about the middle of February. They expect a big year's business and are preparing to cut 12,000,000 this year.

The Pacific Lumber Co. is putting up a handsome lodging house at Clinton. The same company is getting out logs and hauling them on the snow to the railroad.

Most of the new contracts let by the railroad company specify that the trees must be cut in January, February and March, when the sap is down, to prevent the loss of the bark, which makes quite an item in a year's supply.

The impression has become prevalent among the woodmen along the river, that the railroad company intended to change the grates in their engines and burn coal instead of wood, between Truckee and Wadsworth. Mr. Talbot, fuel agent, writes that there will be no change before fall if there is then.

There will be about thirty thousand cords of wood cut on the East side this year. Sisson & Wallace have one order for 8,000 cords and somebody says another for 12,000, making 20,000 all told. Ellen has 4,000 to cut, Champion 5,000 or 6,000, Wicks 2,000, Wallace 1,000, Fong Lee 2,500 and others small amounts. Prices range from $33 to $37.50.

PACIFIC COAST ITEMS.

There are now two hose carts and 1,000 feet of fire hose in Bodie.

The Piutes say of catfish: "All same Chinamen; get tail on head."

Two hundred and fifty Chinamen in the placer mines at Warren, Idaho. They have paid over $40,000 for claims.

It is estimated that there are over 250,000 sheep between Deer Creek and Kern river. Contracts are being made for spring wool at 22 to 23 cents per pound.

Three Chinamen who have been conducting a lottery in Napa have come to grief. They were arrested, tried and fined $70 each, or $210 in all, $60 of which were paid in ten cent pieces.

The raffle for the celebrated Morgan stallion took place at Orville last Wednesday, and was won by No. 478, held by Thomas Johnson. He was offered $300 for the horse immediately afterwards.

Gen Kitrell, in attempting to reach Bodie, had rather a hard time of it. His sleigh broke down, his team ran away, and he wandered about twelve hours in the snow before he could reach a cabin.

Last week Anton Rose, ditch tender for the Sterling Company, Southern Oregon, became thoroughly saturated with water while attending to his duties, and before he could reach one of the cabins he was frozen stiff and nearly perished.

At Walla Walla, W. T., last Monday night, while the teachers and pupils were at the City Hall, enjoying the festival, some one went through the building and robbed the school children of all their pocket money. The total proceeds of the enterprise were about $20.

The Sutro tunnel workmen, says the Enterprise, have been trying their hand at "lightning" work during the past week, and can now "go up to the past." They shovelled the north lateral drift through a distance of 139 feet during the week ending at noon yesterday. This is but a little less than 20 feet per day, and is the biggest work ever done on the Comstock.

Mr. Hazelton, a resident of Cottonwood, California, came across a camp of Chinamen who were cutting lumber, and who were excited over the discovery in a hollow tree of thirteen rattlesnakes, varying in size from one to three feet, which had sought the hollow tree as a place of security for the winter. A number were killed at once and their rattles secured as trophies.
